Detaljer:

In the heart of Ariany, this charming terraced house is being built, combining modern living with a Mediterranean lifestyle. With approx. 141 sqm of living space distributed over three levels, it offers a home that radiates both lightness and comfort – clear in its architecture and warm in its atmosphere.

On the ground floor, a compact entrance hall leads directly into the open-plan living and dining area with kitchen. Large windows create a seamless connection to the sheltered patio with pool, designed as a small oasis for everyday life. A guest bathroom and utility room complete this level with practical details.

The first floor features two spacious bedrooms, each with its own en-suite bathroom. A conveniently located laundry room adds extra comfort.

The highlight of the second floor is another bedroom with access to a private 9.9 sqm terrace. From here, one can enjoy peaceful moments under the open sky.

Natural materials such as Marés rústico, stone-look tiles and wooden elements give the house its unmistakable Mediterranean character. Underfloor heating, central air conditioning and a rooftop solar system ensure modern comfort and sustainable energy use.
